U.S. Draws Line In Asia As China's War Ability Wanes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is drawing the line in Southeast Asia at a time when Red China's ability to fight a major modern war is in a tailspin.

China's worn-out air force is starved for spare parts and new planes to replace a jet fleet that is largely of Korean War vintage.

Her army, huge in manpower, is strapped for up-to-date tanks and short on artillery.

There are serious scarcities of fuel to run the planes, tanks and vehicles that China does have.

Red China's military deterioration set in about four years ago when the growing ideological dispute with the Soviet Union led Moscow to shut off supplies and technical help to China.

One effect of this has been to set back the day when China can explode her first atom bomb.

The Soviet-Chinese split seemingly has deepened and the prospect that the Soviet Union will resume arming China is considered remote.

U.S. officials regard as significant Moscow's recent warning to Red China that she should no longer count on Soviet backing in a crisis.

Some high officials believe this Soviet action was a direct result of repeated U.S. warnings that it is ready to risk war with China to keep Southeast Asia from falling under Communist domination.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said it will be "many, many years" before Red China is a first-class power.

This evaluation, based on solid intelligence information, is a main underpinning for the new U.S. "hard line" toward China.

There is an awareness that China could feel forced to call this country's hand.

She could, as she did in Korea, send hordes of men rolling into Southeast Asia.

The latest intelligence reports show no evidence of any Chinese massing of forces in South China, sources said.

But the United States has no intention of getting into a ground war with China unless there is no other way out.

What this country would do, officials have indicated in private, is to apply its massive air power. China's obsolescent air force would be virtually helpless to halt such an assault.

If China infiltrated the jungles of Laos and Viet Nam in a guerrilla offensive on a big scale, it would be hard to halt such a surge on the ground.

But U.S. aircraft could be expected to hit hard at the sources of supply and reinforcement in China, at highways and railroads, if necessary at industrial centers and bases deeper in the country.

Even withholding its great nuclear power, this country's air force and its potent naval air arm could drive home devastating blows.

U.S. intelligence has pinpointed a series of military bases and a vast network of roads and railways radiating from South China's Yunnan Province toward North Viet Nam and Burma.

Available Marine and Army strength in the Western Pacific is too thin to undertake a major, sustained ground war.

The main U.S. force of this kind in that general area is a Marine Division on Okinawa, including a battalion landing team afloat with the U.S. 7th Fleet in Asian waters, plus an army airborne brigade on Okinawa.

There are two Army Divisions in South Korea but pinned down by the ever-present threat from Red North Korea.

On Hawaii, the 25th Infantry Division stands ready as the theater reserve.

Sailors Join Hunt For Missing Trio

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — Presidential fact-finder Allen Dulles says he doesn't see "any likely explosion" in this Deep South state over the baffling disappearance of three civil rights workers.

U.S. sailors joined state and federal officers again today to comb this east-central Mississippi area for any clues to the trio, missing since last Sunday.

Freidnet Johnson ordered the sailors from the nearby Meridian Naval Air Auxiliary Station to join the search late Thursday. One hundred sailors teamed with FBI agents and Mississippi highway patrolmen to wallow knee-deep in mud through snake-infested swamps. Another 100 sailors were on standby duty at their base.

Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 21, both of New York City, and James Chaney, 22, a Meridian Negro, were last seen Sunday night when released from jail here after paying a speeding fine.

The only clue to their mysterious disappearance was the finding Tuesday of their burned-out station wagon 17 miles north-east of Philadelphia.

Dulles, former director of the Central Intelligence Agency, was expected to brief President Johnson today on his mission to Mississippi. Dulles returned late Thursday night to Washington after two days in this state.

"I don't see any likely explosion," Dulles told an impromptu airport news conference in Washington.

He hastened to add: "The situation requires careful handling."

Dulles, who did not come to Philadelphia, said the search for Schwerner, Goodman and Chaney "is in good competent hands."

Before leaving the state he met at Jackson for 90 minutes with state civil rights leaders and again conferred with Gov. Paul B. Johnson.

Two of the civil rights leaders who met with Dulles later asked for a personal meeting with President Johnson to discuss the racial situation in this state.

"Negroes now feel a kind of frustration never experienced before," Aaron Henry of Clarksdale and Charles Evers of Jackson said in a telegram to the White House.

Henry is state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Evers, brother of the late Medgar Evers, who was slain by a sniper a year ago, is the organization's field secretary.

At Meridian, James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, expressed concern about the nature and progress of the investigation.

He said he felt protection was required for other civil rights workers throughout the state — "that's why we called for marshals."

"No one asked for special number," Farmer said. "Just to have marshals around would be a great deterrent factor to violence."

The White House first announced that 200 Marines would join the search but later said the report was "inadvertently inaccurate" and only sailors from the Meridian base would be used.

The erroneous report that Marines would be used stirred resentment among some Mississippi members of Congress, including Rep. John Bell Williams, who said the President bowed to "left-wing racial agitators."

Williams said that if President Johnson is so concerned about helping to find missing persons, he should turn his attention to New York City, where he said, 10,500 persons were reported missing last year, of whom 188 are still listed as missing.

Earlier, Rep. Arthur Winstead, D-Miss., whose home is Philadelphia, told the House the disappearance of the three men may be a hoax designed to attract publicity.

"Nobody knows there has been any violence," Winstead said. "There are some who think it is a hoax intended to get all this unfavorable publicity."

Whites Attack Negroes, Turn March Into Rout

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Hundreds of white segregationists raced into a civil rights march Thursday night, screaming and flailing at Negroes in this city's worst outbreak of racial violence.

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King said only the non-violence of Negroes "saved the city from a bloody night of terror."

45 Persons Injured

At least 45 persons were injured and 15 of them were treated at a hospital. Dozens were arrested.

Protests were halted today as integrationists asked federal court in Jacksonville to overturn an order by Gov. Farris Bryant barring any group—integrationist or segregationist—from demonstrating after 8:30 p.m.

King said that he appealed to the White House for help at the height of Thursday night's melee and was assured the matter would be investigated. He frequently has called for federal marshals' protection.

For the first time in three weeks of almost daily confrontations, State Police were openly threatened. On at least two occasions, angry whites surrounded isolated groups of state troopers and tried to seize Negro prisoners.

The Negro parade moved into the downtown square exactly like others which have been held. The proposed route went around the side of the square in which at least 200 whites were holding a segregation rally.

When the Negro column approached, the whites burst through police lines and into the marchers with fists. Some of the Negroes were hit; some of

Lisbon Airman Seriously Hurt

Aboard Plane In Crash Fatal to 7

A Lisbon area serviceman was one of 15 occupants that were injured when an army transport plane crashed on takeoff from a temporary airstrip northeast of Ridgeway, S. C., about midnight Wednesday.

Seven were killed, including five passengers, and seven soldiers on the ground were injured.

Spec. 5 Donald Dale Whittington, 21, of Lisbon, RD 3, was seriously injured in the accident. He was aboard the plane as assistant flight manager.

The Air Force sent a telegram to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Kelley of Lisbon RD 3, disclosing that their son had suffered "very serious head injuries." The telegram received Thursday at 4:45 a.m. said there is "slim possibility" the serviceman would recover.

His parents drove immediately to Ridgeway Hospital and were to phone a sister of the serviceman, Mrs. James (Dennis) of the Laurel Motel near Chester, W. Va., between 3 and 4 this afternoon with a report on the soldier's condition.

Whittington was a graduate from Beaver Local High School in 1961 and entered the army air force in March 1962.

Five occupants of the plane were killed and the other 15 occupants were injured. Two other soldiers on the ground in the vicinity of the crash site were also killed, and seven soldiers on the ground were injured. One of those injured was Specialist Larry Johnson of Mingo in Jefferson County.

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP) — Bernard Jung, 21, of Barberton lost his life Thursday in a fiery collision involving three trucks on U. S. 21 in Copley Township.

Jung was driving a small State Highway Department truck that was struck in the rear by a gasoline tanker truck, police said. The impact pushed the small truck into another truck. Sparks apparently ignited the gasoline from the fuel tanks of the small truck and the tanker.

Exposure Topless Swimming Suit Model Disappoints Male Crowd

By The Associated Press The topless bathing suit for women is getting still more exposure across the nation, although it proved a disappointment to 200 expectant males in Oklahoma City.

Not so in Los Angeles, where fans, mostly male, crowded around a clothing store display window where a live model was wearing the suit Thursday.

Also attracted were two sheriff's deputies, who checked with headquarters and found that nudity was not enough for arrest; lewd behavior must be proved.

In Oklahoma City about 200 persons, mostly male, gathered at a housing project after a radio station announced that a pretty girl wearing a topless suit would arrive by helicopter.

She did, and there were some red faces.

She was blonde, blue-eyed Billye Rae, 3½ years old. Technically "topless" bathing suits were shown at a Detroit fashion show. However, it was a hair fashion show and the models appeared in waist-length hair styles resembling wide suspenders, Sam Browne belts and tie-back window curtains.

It looked scratchy and one model said it was.

Hope Diamond took a dip in a Hartford, Conn. park pond in a topless suit, and was promptly

Scranton Hurls Blast at LBJ

Offers Plan to Cope With Automation

DETROIT (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton hit today at what he termed failure of President Johnson's administration and "ostriches" within his own Republican party to cope with problems of automation.

"The underlying philosophy of the Johnson administration boils down basically to this: Delay automation as long as possible, harassing industry," Scranton declared in remarks prepared for delivery in this industrial city only hours before Johnson would appear here for an evening address at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Turning on the GOP, Scranton, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, declared:

"I must tell you that I think no more highly of the response of the ostriches in our own party. Their response appears to be: Bury your head in the lone prairie, until this and all other problems somehow go away."

Though Scranton did not mention Sen. Barry Goldwater by name, in the light of recent statements by Scranton his remarks appeared aimed at the Arizona senator. Goldwater presently holds a big edge in delegate strength for the nomination.

Scranton is campaigning in Michigan with hopes he could put some 45 Michigan delegates on ice for second-ballot support at next month's San Francisco convention.

Scranton proposed five points to meet the problem of automation "and to translate its benefit into a better, happier, more productive future for all of our people."

His proposals: Remove restrictions on automation so that the nation can "maintain our competitive position in world trade" by turning out "all the goods that our

10 Injured In Pennsylvania Resort Mishap

Explosion Levels Snake Farm, Frees Poisonous Reptiles

MARSHALLS CREEK, Pa. (AP)—A truck loaded with ammonium nitrate caught fire and exploded early today in this Pocono Mountain resort area, killing at least six persons and injuring some 10 others.

The blast, which left a crater 10 feet deep and at least 30 feet wide, eyewitnesses said, leveled the Pocono reptile farm and scattered dangerous snakes in the area.

The driver of the truck, Albert Kuda, of Port Carbon, Pa., working for American Cyanamid Co., Pottsville, Pa., told state police he had a flat tire which caught fire on Route 209 some three miles from here and he went to call for help.

Three fire trucks from the volunteer Marshalls Creek fire station responded to the call and arrived just as the truck exploded, fire officials said.

Fire Trucks Destroyed All three trucks were destroyed in the blast and three firemen killed. Kuda was not injured.

Firemen at the scene, along with local and state police, tracked down and killed rattlesnakes, copperheads and cobras freed by the blast.

Windows were blown out in homes as far away as Stroudsburg, 10 miles away.

Homes in the immediate vicinity were shattered, doors blown off and windows knocked out.

William Paesch, 30, of Baltimore, Md., and his wife were in their station wagon just behind the truck.

"I saw flames and in no more than a matter of seconds I saw a large red glow and heard an explosion," he said.

Wife Killed In Blast His wife was killed in the explosion. Hospital officials said she died of an apparent concussion.

Paesch was treated for cuts and bruises and released from Monroe County General Hospital at Stroudsburg.

Other dead were tentatively identified as firemen Leonard Mosier, Earl Miller and Ed Heins. Also reported killed was John Regina, son of the owner of Regina Hotel. Scattered remains of another person were found.

The scene of the blast is in the northeastern Pennsylvania resort area.

Driver Hurt As Truck Rams Car

Walter B. Gump, 22, of RD 4, Salem, suffered a slight neck injury but did not require treatment after his Volkswagen was struck from the rear by a tractor-trailer truck today at 12:40 a.m. on Route 45, about four miles south of Ellsworth.

The trucker, Stewart Fryer, 28, of Jewett, who was uninjured, was cited by the Canfield post of the State Highway Patrol for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Both vehicles were southbound on Route 45 when the truck hit Gump's auto as he turned left onto Calla Rd. The rear of the VW was damaged in the extent of some $300, the Patrol said.

Two cars collided five miles south of Lisbon on Route 30 Thursday at 4:35 p.m., according to the Lisbon Patrol, but only property damage resulted. Rurus Alford, 27, of Clairton, Pa. was heading south at the time that a car operated by Alice Reynolds, address unknown was going north and turning west into a parking lot.

Lausche Rips Senate Approval of Excise Tax Repeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank J. Lausche, Ohio's independent-minded Democratic senator, will go to quite some lengths to make a point.

These lengths even include offering a proposal which he himself says is "irresponsible."

He showed this Thursday during Senate debate on an amendment to the excise tax extension bill which would repeal the 10 per cent federal retail tax on cosmetics, handbags, luggage, jewelry.

Lausche, who recently has been acting as a watchdog of the treasury, said the Senate was giving "the greatest demonstration of fiscal irresponsibility one can imagine" in considering repeal of the 10 per cent retail tax.

President Johnson had said repeal of those taxes would cost an estimated $455 million annually.

Another senator, George A. Smathers, D-Fla., offered a proposal to cut in half the 10 per cent tax on local telephone service, which would have cost $300 million in the next year. Smathers said telephones are a greater necessity than furs.

Lausche voted for the telephone tax cut but told the Senate he did so only to show "the folly of what is happening here."

But despite the Ohio Democrat's protests, the Senate approved, 48 to 38, the retail tax repeal amendment.

The amendment is part of a bill which would extend some other excise taxes. The bill has been approved by the House, but if it is approved by the Senate, such as the 10 per cent retail tax repeal proposal, will force it into a Senate-House conference to resolve the differences.

When another senator pointed out the cost of Lausche's amendment, he retorted: "I know it. I'm after votes."

Lausche's amendment was defeated, 81 to 3.

Model Home Open Here This Weekend

A two-day open house will be held this weekend for public inspection of a model home erected at 1120 N. Lincoln Ave. as the beginning of the development of the North Union Ave. addition which will extend northward to the Brookview addition.

The five-bedroom, multi-level house of brick and frame is an all-gas home that marks the launching of the new "Olde Colony Builders" allotment.

Robert L. Capel of the Burt C. Capel real estate agency, who is agent for the project, said the home is provided with three bathrooms, a 2 1/2 car garage and sun balcony over the patio. Besides the usual gas appliances, the home is equipped with a gas grill and light.

Jack Harroff has furnished the house for the opening and Troil's Jewelry has provided china and silver flatware.

The land for the new allotment was purchased from Clifford Beck by C. J. Royer of Canton, the developer.

The home will be open from 1 to 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. The structure may be inspected thereafter in the evening.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Take Precautions In Cooking Out

Isn't it about time to have a cookout? The answer is: By all means—if you take a few simple precautions.

Never use kerosene, lighter fluid or other potentially explosive liquid fuel to start the fire.

Safe commercial starters are now available. If you must poke around in the fire, wear insulated mittens.

Be sure the skewers are long — handled Dr. Brandstadt forks have heat-resistant handles. Skewers should be picked up with the point down to avoid dripping hot grease on your hands. Children must be kept away from the hot grill.

Don't leave the hot coals in the grill after you're through cooking, because a child may fall against the grill and be badly burned. The coals should be smothered with dirt or sand. If you choose to extinguish them with water, be careful to avoid being scalded by a cloud of steam. Use enough water to put the fire out completely. Many fires that have been doused with too little water have come to life again and caused damage to persons or property.

Q—I am 50 and have high blood pressure. My doctor is giving me Dramamine. What will this do for me?

A—Dramamine is an antihistaminic and is commonly given to prevent motion sickness. It is a mild sedative and is helpful in reducing the blood pressure. Since large doses may cause drowsiness, you should not take it when you will be driving a car.

Q—I had my uterus removed because of a fibroid tumor. Is that a kind of cancer? Should I have another checkup?

A—A fibroid is a benign tumor. When one of these tumors grows rapidly it is usually removed to relieve pressure on the bladder or bleeding between regular menstrual periods. A periodic physical checkup is advisable for everyone, especially those over 40.

Q—What side effects come from taking Equanil regularly? Is it habit-forming? Would sudden withdrawal be harmful?

A—Equanil is a brand of meprobamate, which is a tranquilizer. Side effects include drowsiness, depression and skin rash. The drug is mildly habit-forming. Sudden withdrawal may cause convulsions. No tranquilizer should be taken regularly.

Ready For the Next Tax Cut

The House Ways and Means Committee will hold lengthy hearings on excise taxes imposed during World War II and the Korean War. This is where the next tax cut could come from.

"Temporary" taxes enacted to pay for World War II are still being levied 19 years after its close. So are the taxes imposed more than a decade ago during the Korean War.

Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee proposes, with the full support of President Johnson, a study of the specific effects of excise taxes over the past decade. The committee hearings will spread upon the record a vast amount of data which will aid the Treasury next year in drafting recommendations for repeal or modification.

Rep. Mills does not intend to touch special levies on gasoline, tires and tubes, tread rubber, diesel fuel, truck use and trucks, buses, and trailers. The more than $3 billion these produce is allocated to the highway trust fund.

Other unlikely candidates for repeal are the whisky and tobacco excise taxes. These bring in nearly $6 billion a year.

That leaves about $5 billion under the carving knife. Excise taxes furnish about $14 billion at present rates, as against $10 billion in 1956.

THE THEORY behind cutting excise

Franklin Furniture

The name Franklin is synonymous with good furniture and a word that is mentioned frequently in many households. Therefore, it is not surprising that the Franklin Furniture Co. of Columbiana is finding it necessary to erect a new building to accommodate its manufacturing operations.

Founded by the late L. Frank Smith of Salem, the firm's ever-growing volume of business is making it necessary to find larger quarters because the present Columbiana facilities are inadequate. Company President Walter Hartsock, who is well-known in the district, has his eyes on a parcel of land on the Columbiana-Leetonia Rd. and hopes to have the new building under construction by fall. Franklin, which also operates the Cherry Hill rocker plant in Salem, employs 138 in Columbiana. With unlimited capacity assured when the new building is completed, Franklin's future in the furniture industry looks even more promising.

Letter From Max

By Martin R. Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

First of all it should be stated that what follows in no way applies to you or me or anyone we know because we all know that our era has its own special problems and things are different now from what they were when pioneers traveled from Connecticut to, say, the Northwest Territory.

So here are this man and wife and children starting out from Connecticut for the Ohio country in the old days and the wife says, "I doubt if we ever make it in this old jalopy. It rattles and squeaks at every bump and you should have traded those nags in on new ones two years ago like I tried to tell you."

"The canvas on this old covered wagon is full of holes and acts like a sieve whenever it rains. And that team of horses hasn't the strength to get us across the Hudson River, much less over the hills to where you think you are going."

But the husband is determined to strike out as a pioneer in new country despite the probable hardships and he says, "Our wagon and team are only three years old. Right in the prime of life."

And she says, "Yes but those other people from here who went out to that new territory had all new equipment. Their wagon was brand new and their team of horses were yearlings. Why should we have to start such a hard trip without having as good equipment as they?"

The husband being the head of the household and arbiter of family law, the family started out for the then-western country in their three-year-old transportation despite the wife's admonitions.

They managed to get into the hills taxes is that in two years the country will be ready for another tax-cut stimulus. Excise taxes are the logical targets.

Congress has heard various proposals in recent years ranging from making the wartime excise rates permanent to repeal of all but those on liquor and tobacco. Both the continuers and repealers would include not only the sales taxes on "luxury" items, but manufacturers' taxes, such as the 10 per cent tax on automobiles and television sets and the 5 per cent taxes on clothes driers.

President Johnson in his budget message Jan. 21 requested a one-year extension of excise taxes scheduled to expire June 30. Existing rates were to be continued on distilled spirits, beer, wine, cigarettes, passengers cars, automobile parts and accessories, general telephone service, and passenger travel by air.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., countered with a proposal to cut in half the existing 10 per cent excise tax on jewelry, luggage, watches, handbags, cosmetics, perfumes, and furs. The remaining 5 per cent would go by the boards next year.

THE COMMITTEE on May 26 rejected the Byrnes proposal, 14-10, in a strict party-line division. Byrnes said he would probably offer the same amendment on the House floor.

Some excise taxes are certain to undergo the knife. The question is one of timing.

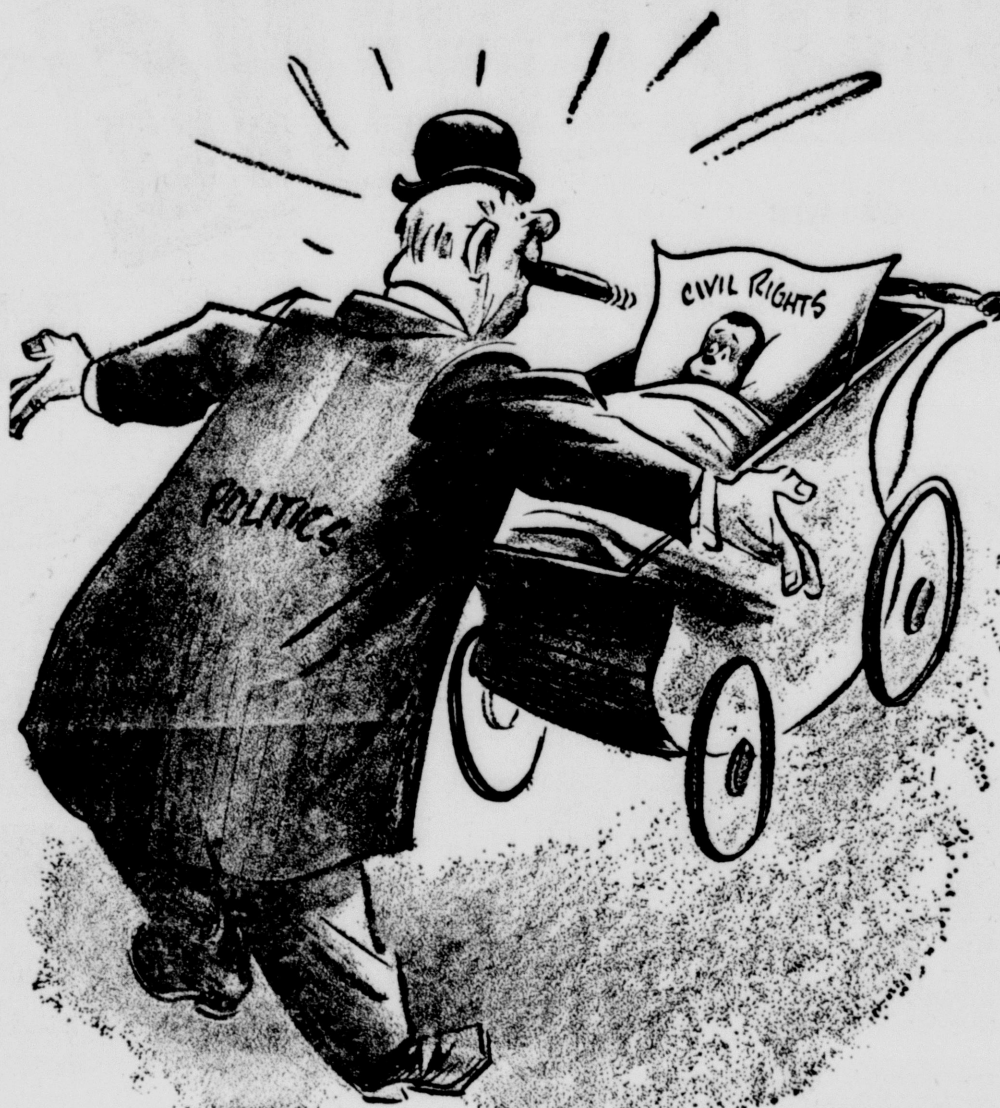

In an affluent society it's difficult to make a case that milady's lipstick is a luxury. The question may be whether a tax on cosmetics may be more regressive and more onerous to the poor than a tax on, say, tennis rackets.

Good Audit Report

State examiners' report of the audit of Columbiana County Courthouse office records for the three-year period from Jan. 17, 1960, to March 9, 1963, lists miscellaneous findings for recovery of $21,755 and $61,700 in bookkeeping errors requiring adjustment.

There are no "findings for recovery" of a criminal nature and on the whole it is a clear report on the good conduct and "officemanship" of our elective officials at the Courthouse.

It's exasperating for a wife when her husband doesn't talk in his sleep but just smiles dreamily.

Politics Inside Labor

By VICTOR RIESEL

Barry Goldwater and Lyndon Johnson are amateurs playing a tame game compared with some politicians inside labor.

The latter play it rough and hard. Those who run and lose are purged, ousted, slashed from payrolls, mocked, merely because they indulged in the "whimsy" of democratic processes.

One of those labor leaders who could not resist the urge to purge his opponents is a man who considers himself the mentor of those who work in the weaving mills of the land—William Pollock, president of the Textile Workers Union, AFL-CIO.

This being the convention season, his union ran one earlier this month.

THE OPPOSITION, doing what comes naturally, ran a ticket against his slate. Leading the insurgents was a Bostonian named William Belanger, who ran for president on a platform which promised, in effect, to give the union better leadership than it had had recently.

Belanger's running mate was a gentleman from Virginia, Wesley Cook, a man who did well in several universities and, while on leave from the union, served well in the U.S. diplomatic service for a few years. He ran for the union's second highest post — the secretary-treasurer's spot.

The Belanger-Cook ticket lost by a 608 to 340 count at their convention. That parley closed on June 5. Four days later the victorious Mr. Pollock took a few minutes out from being mentor to the proletariat to fire both men. Belanger had been New England regional director and Cook head of the synthetic yarn division.

APPARENTLY the union president did not believe the whole matter was worth the expenditure of much time. He tossed it off with the following letter:

"Dear Brother Belanger: As an unsuccessful candidate for the office of general president, you will be governed by the same provision that would have applied to me if you had won. My salary would continue for 30 days after my defeat. Therefore, your services will be terminated as of the week ending July 4, 1964. Prior thereto, arrangements will be completed to take over your present assignment."

"Fraternally,
"William Pollock,
General President."

There is no such "provision." The word is Pollock's idea of irony.

A similar farewell note was dispatched to Wes Cook.

Also fired was a gracious lady, Mrs. Reba Canzano, the wife of another official who was in the opposition but who hadn't run for office against the incumbents.

This isn't half the story. These three had been with the union since the '30s. Each could have done well "in the outside world." Belanger began in 1932.

COOK JOINED early and became an organizer for the old Textile Workers Organizing Committee in 1937. Mrs. Canzano, who was in the union's research department after having served as administrative assistant to the union's founder, has worked for it since 1937.

Yet for disagreeing with the union chief, for availing themselves of the much vaunted democratic processes so loudly acclaimed by the labor movement, they were discharged with 30 days' notice after almost three decades.

However, this is not all. The union was founded by Emil Rieve, whose growling never obscured his good humor. Frequently we did not see eye-to-eye. But we respected each other.

Rieve, now 72, was president emeritus until the morning of the last day of the convention. But he, too, spoke up against the leader. On the final day of the parley Pollock's forces drubbed the elder statesman. They wiped out the title of which he was proud and which linked him with a union he built.

AND WHAT has the success-

Code of Conduct

By JOSEPH MICHALAK

NEW YORK—"Going steady" is dangerous; it should be discouraged unanimously by all parents.

"Single dating" should be discouraged.

"We should disapprove of car ownership—the use of family car is a 'privilege' and not a 'right.'"

"No alcoholic beverages of any kind should be served to students at any time or any place."

"Dress should be in conformance with standards of good taste and moderation."

"Students should not be allowed to smoke."

These are among the man-given commandments by which the parents of pupils in Carle Place, N.Y., school will live, starting in September, whether their children like them or not.

The usual list of "voluntary guide lines" is contained in a "Code of Conduct for Parents" released recently by school superintendent John Moehle, who originally suggested it.

They are the result of a year of preparation by Moehle and 18 parents in the community and have been endorsed by most of the town's civic groups and the faculties and Parent-Teacher organizations.

"There is a direct correlation," Moehle said in an interview, "between ownership of a car, use of alcohol, and going steady, and the poor work that results in school."

He said this extended to the way that pupils dress.

"If you look like a bum," he said, "you think and act like one."

The Carle Place code makes 11:30 p.m. the ultimate curfew hour for house parties or non-school nights.

The other curfew hours for social occasions on non-school nights are as follows: 5th and 6th graders, 8:30 p.m.; 7th and 8th graders, 10; 9th graders, 10:30; 10th graders, 11, and ful leader to say of all this?

"It is logical and sensible," said Pollock the other day, "that anyone who aspires for top office in any organization should be prepared" to lay his "job on the line." He added "No one forced them (Belanger and Cook) to run for top office."

It's difficult to resist the temptation of drawing an analogy. What would have happened if a mill owner had discharged veteran employees for union activities? A strike would have shut the plant.

Pollock's view of union activities inside his own union is a strange, indeed. This is not the first time he's fought such activity. Some years ago the organizing and service staffs of the Textile Workers Union organized a union of their own inside the union to bargain with Pollock in their own behalf.

He battled this Federation of Textile Representatives. He forced it to go to the LRB for a recognition election. He then wanted to go into the courts to fight it after I won he poll. But his own executive board dissuaded him.

Surely such a man will not long be without an escutcheon. And on it will be the motto: "Do as I say, not as I do."

Support for Barry

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Sen. Barry Goldwater has just gotten some support from an unexpected quarter. Three members of the Supreme Court of the United States have unwittingly justified the viewpoint he expressed last week when he said that, as a matter of conviction, he couldn't vote for the civil rights bill because of his grave doubts about the constitutionality of the public accommodations provisions as they relate to state action.

David Lawrence

Justices Black, Harlan and White of the high court rendered their opinion in connection with the release of 12 Negro students who participated in a sit-in demonstration at a restaurant in Baltimore in 1960. These justices took the position that there is no power under the 14th Amendment to compel a restaurant owner to serve those he does not wish to serve. Three other justices — Goldberg, Warren and Douglas — took the opposite position. The three remaining members — Justices Brennan, Stewart and Clark — handed the case without reference to constitutional questions, ruling simply that Maryland has passed another law since the arrests were made, and that the latest statute does no make it a trespassing offense to do what the students had done. Hence the net result was no decision on the constitutional point.

THERE IS no question, however, about the grave doubts among some members of the court as to whether a restaurant owner can really be compelled against his wishes to serve anybody who comes into his restaurant, particularly if the 14th Amendment is used as a defense for "sit-in" demonstrations or acts of trespass on private property.

There is in the civil rights bill which passed the Senate, and is now pending in the House, a provision which would forbid restaurant owners to discriminate as between customers on the ground of race or color, but the phraseology is based on the supposed power of Congress to decide arbitrarily what "affects commerce" between the states. Many lawyers feel that the constitutionality of this provision also rest upon a very weak foundation.

The Supreme Court of the United States in 1883 held that the federal government could not, by invoking the 14th Amendment, compel either a restaurant owner or an inn keeper to serve everybody who applied and that his choice of customer's is something he alone has a right to decide upon for his own reasons.

THE 1883 DECISION is today "the law of the land," and it is significant that Justices Black, Harlan and White feel that no state action is involved when the owner of a private business chooses to serve only customers he wants to serve. The three dissenting justices said:

"Businesses owned by private persons do not become agencies of the state because they are licensed; to hold that they do would be completely to negate all our private ownership concepts and practices. . . .

"Our duty is simply to interpret the Constitution, and in doing so the test of constitutionality is not whether a law is offensive to our conscience or to the 'good old common law,' but whether it is offensive to the Constitution.

"Confining ourselves to our constitutional duty to construe, not to rewrite or amend, the Constitution, we believe that Section 1 of the 14th Amendment does not bar Maryland from enforcing its trespass laws so long as it does so with impartiality. . . .

"Our sole conclusion is that Section 1 of the 14th Amendment, standing alone, does not prohibit privately owned restaurants from choosing their own customers. It does not destroy what has until very recently been universally recognized in this country as the unchallenged right of a man who owns a business to run the business in his own way so long as some valid regulatory statute does not tell him to do otherwise."

THE THREE justices denounced sit-ins that could lead to violence and added:

"Whatever power it may allow the states or grant to the Congress to regulate the use of private property, the Constitution does not confer upon any group the right to substitute rule by force for rule by law. Force leads to violence, violence to mob conflicts, and these to rule by the strongest group with control of the most deadly weapons."

Certainly, after a reading of the high court opinions of this week, one wonders why more members of Congress did not share with Sen. Goldwater the view that the legislation was not clearly constitutional and hence passage should not be risked.

Members of the Senate and the House take an oath of office to support the Constitution as it is today and not as they think it should be interpreted in the future by the Supreme Court or as the Constitution itself might some day be amended.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: For those who have electric toothbrushes: Ever tried taking an old toothbrush head and inserting it in your toothbrush holder, using the reverse side and giving yourself a quick face massage?

Also wonderful for tense, tired neck muscles and the back of the neck, etc.

EVELYN O.

Heavens to Betsy!

The moment we got this letter, I got up and tried it! Fabulous for that aching muscle in the back of the neck... Just use it gently for a few minutes. Sure helps tension headache.

Since you didn't enclose your address, Evelyn, I will have to send a kiss through the column. Here 'tis... "X" HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This is an easy way to sew snaps:

After sewing on the snap (with the protruding end) I put a contrasting color of chalk on the tip of the snap and press it to the material where the other half of the snap is to be sewn.

The chalk leaves a clear mark on the material, and there is no guess work as to just exactly where the snap should go.

ALINA DE CORDOVA.

DEAR HELOISE: I use onion and potato mesh bags for my children's puzzles and other small toys. I then hang them on a pegboard in their playroom.

I also use one of these bags for my extension cords, and they are always at hand. I hang this bag in the basement stairway just off the kitchen. Now, no more hunting through the kitchen drawers for that particular cord.

MRS. HAROLD FRANKE.

DEAR HELOISE: When an electric blanket konks out, we unravel the thread from the bottom ribbon, saving both thread and ribbon on a spool.

Turning the blanket inside out a little at a time, we clip the threads holding the electric wire, until the entire wire is inside do no harm.

We then turn the blanket right side out again, replace the ribbon... and a more comfortable blanket cannot be found.

This may help others who have an electric blanket which is no longer... electric.

E. K.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a tip for those who want to grow long, l'ong nails.

Always keep nail polish on your nails, but the most important thing is to put a coat of polish underneath the tip of your nail. This strengthens the nail and will keep it from splitting.

This is a good idea for the girls who have their hands in water a great deal.

I have done this for years and my nails are very long and strong.

JOANN S.

DEAR HELOISE: Thanks for the idea about a shelf in the hot water heater closet.

I now have two short clotheslines over the heater for quick-drying an item or two.

This is especially useful when washing baby's training pants several times per day.

MRS. ROD SNAUFFER.

DEAR HELOISE: When traveling with restless children, have them choose the right or the left side of the road and count all the horses, cows or red barns. When the car stops for gas, the game is finished and they must start all over.

I have traveled many a mile with a child or grandchild and this sure helps!

GREAT GRANNY.

Beauty for the asking

By JOSEPHINE KAERCHER, Beauty Consultant

MERLE NORMAN COSMETICS STUDIO

You might as well face it. The weather's changing, and so is the season.

If you're going to keep yourself lovely through the transition period, you are obviously going to pay more attention to your all-over complexion.

With the summer sun, you'll be more exposed than ever. Gone are the high-necked sweaters and dresses, and along with low-back and even-lower fronts, your old-fashioned application of powder base, blending just into the neck, will have to go.

Body make-up is back, and probably here to stay for quite a while.

With the new (and nuder) fashion look, you must pay even more attention to your basic cosmetics.

For instance, in summer, your face will probably get more exposure to the sun than your arms and shoulders. The skill of blending a darker powder base on your face into the lighter portions of the rest of you depends on your willingness to learn how. It's not very difficult, actually. Big trick in blending darker powder base into lighter areas of throat and neck is accomplished by the skillful use of face powder — and body powder.

And there's another trick for evening glamour and plunging necklines.

Use two shades of powder base — darker for your tanned face, slightly lighter (your regular shade) blended into the dark shade on throat and neck, and over your shoulders, until it fades away into your body skin tone. Set your make-up with a light fluff of face powder.

You'll feel so feminine and lovely, you just won't believe you are you.

Please let me help you select the right powder base colors for you. It's so much easier when you try before you buy — and more effective, too.

Just write me, care of this newspaper, or phone and let me treat you to an hour of beauty — and a new make-up — free.

The Godson-Todman Decathlon

One bright Thursday afternoon this month, a novelist named Rona Jaffee and three actresses named Ina Balin, Karen Morrow and Pat Mahen singly and in high secrecy, the Segram Building on New York's Park Ave. They rode the elevator to the 30th floor and were swiftly escorted into an inner conference room, at the front of which stood a long table. There they were seated behind cards which bore their names.

Presently, a number of gentlemen entered, took seats at the far end of the room and doodled on yellow pads. "Let's begin," said one of the men, handing a card surreptitiously to Miss Morrow and another to Miss Balin. On each was printed the word BEDROOM. The ladies thereupon — and rather haltingly — began to play a game called "Password," as the men took notes.

"HMMM," SAID ONE spectator, "shades of blue" — as a word clue, "place," was answered by the word "Peyton." A moment later, when the Password, CRIB, was answered in three swift exchanges ("baby" to "cradle," "rockaby" to "lullaby," "Bed" to "crib"), a bystander exclaimed, "Zip! zip! zip!" and there was a round of applause.

As you doubtless have guessed, the ladies were auditioning for jobs on the panels of such TV game shows as "Missing Links," "The Match Game," "Get the Message," "Password," "The Price Is Right" and "What's My Line?" — all products of those impresarios of charade, Goodson and Todman. They were not holding forth in an inner sanctum of the Goodson-Todman game factory itself. And their questioners were various G-T producers and directors, led by Bob Bach of "What's My Line?"

I'd been talking to Bach a few minutes earlier. He said, "This is our own 'farm system,' and it's been in operation on a once-a-week basis since late last year. Out of the auditions we've gotten such recent panelists as Joey Forman, Darryl Hickman, Nancy Dussault, Marty Ingels and Corbett Monica."

OTHERS WHO'VE BEEN in playing the games have been Blanche Thebom, Dagmar, Rita Gam, Ted Steele, Johnny Desmond, Barbara Baxley, Anita Louise, Robert Clary, Larry Storch, Forest Tucker, Nancy Berg, Bert Bacharach, Carleton Carpenter, Elaine Malbin, Leon Janney and Stanley Prager.

If they're good, they come back a second time, and if they're still good, they're in. We need a large talent pool for our shows — upwards of 30 panelists a week. Besides, columnists have been peppering our shows with comments about the 'Goodson - Todman Repertory Players' — the same tired old faces.

"Girls are harder to find than men. You're not going to line up another Murders Row again like Arlene Francis, Betsy Palmer, Kitty Carlisle, Dorothy Kilgallen. Guys are easier because looks aren't so important. Would you call Woody Allen or Henry Morgan an Adonis? No, he doesn't have to be. But with a girl, there's a premium on looks and vitality. Audrey Hepburn — she'd be great."

"Our people come mainly from that gray area of renown, just this side of outright fame. Some performers are too big, others too unknown, some simply the wrong kind. An agent calls and says, 'This guy of mine killed 'em at the Concord.' Fine, but it's not likely he'll kill 'em here."

A G-T PANELIST will get between $500 and $1000 for an appearance, depending upon the program; but he gets a further reward with no price tag on it, national exposure with minimum effort. Clowns, Bach went on, are not generally as effective as wits would be in a panel show, though he found an exception in Marty Ingels, who came on strong in the G-T board room — "a marvelous kisser, a cute guy, a clown, but curious, tenacious," Ingels won a berth on "get the Message," and after scoring there, has graduated to what Bob Bach calls the "Palace" of game shows, "What's My Line?"

MOMENTS LATER, in the game room, the ladies were playing that particular Palace, trying to identify a BANANA INSPECTOR ("Is it smaller than a softball?") and a THUMB TACKS MANUFACTURER ("Would you give it for Christmas?"). And Bob Bach was ending the show with a "Thank you, girls, on behalf of the Goodson - Todman Decathlon."

The novelist and the three actresses stole off into the glare of Park Ave., not quite as quietly as they'd arrived.

China

improved its airlift in recent years and reinforcements, including a Marine division on the West Coast and Army troops from the United States, could be flown across the Pacific.

But the movement of the heavy gear that makes these divisions potent striking forces would have to go by ship, and that takes many days.

Some heavy equipment is stockpiled in Thailand, on Okinawa and aboard three depot ships in the Philippines, but not nearly enough for a truly major ground operation.

This country's aces in the game are nearly 3,000 military planes in the Pacific, plus the 125 ships of the 7th Fleet ranged along the Asian Coast.

U.S. Warplanes—most of them far faster, far more maneuverable, and far more heavily armed than the Chinese—can strike at China from bases on Okinawa, Formosa, the Philippines, South Viet Nam, Thailand and Japan, although political considerations might prevent this.

The 7th Fleet has three big carriers from which Marine and Navy fighters and bombers could be launched against the mainland.

This is what the Chinese have, based on intelligence reports:

An air force of about 2,400 planes, mostly elderly fighters—MIG15s and MIG17s. As much as half of this force reportedly has been immobilized by a shortage of fuel and a need to take parts from some planes to keep others flying. Some medium and long-range bombers and a few transports. The 75,000 air force men include about 10,000 pilots who aren't rated very highly.

A People's Liberation Army of 2,600,000 men—many of them conscripts—formed into 160 divisions. About three are armored divisions, one is airborne, some are cavalry for desert operations and the great mass are infantry.

A navy of about 135,000, which includes marines. An air arm of about 500 MIG17s. Some 30 submarines, about half equipped for mine-laying. This navy, main for coast defense, couldn't stay in the water with the mighty 7th Fleet.

Commissioners Let Paint Job Contract

Columbiana County commissioners Thursday awarded a contract to Weyant Painting of Lisbon to paint the steeple and figure on top of the Courthouse. Weyant's bid was $495. The only other bidder was Gouldsberry Painting Co., also of Lisbon. The latter bid $650.

In other business, travel allowance was authorized for James Miller of Salineville, juvenile officer, to take a juvenile to Columbus State School.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

LBJ Balked In Bid to Set Cyprus Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Balked in efforts to set up direct talks between Greece and Turkey, the Johnson administration today turned to the United Nations for an easing of the explosive Cyprus crisis.

After four days of apparently unsuccessful personal diplomacy, President Johnson dispatched Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, his Cyprus trouble shooter, to New York to report to U.N. officials on the results of his talks with Turkish Prime Minister Ismet Inonu and Greek Prime Minister George Papandreou.

Fearful of open warfare between the two North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies, Johnson tried to convince Inonu and Papandreou they should open direct diplomatic negotiations on a Cyprus settlement.

The Greek Cypriots outnumber the Turkish minority on Cyprus almost 5 to 1, and Greece advocates self-determination for the eastern Mediterranean island. Turkey firmly rejects Enosis—union of Cyprus with Greece.

Johnson told both men their countries would have to make concessions, but argued this is in the interest of preventing a war between NATO allies and blocking a new Communist thrust into the area. The Soviet Union reportedly promised heavy arms aid to the Greek Cypriot government.

After seeing Johnson Monday and Tuesday, Inonu reportedly left with the understanding that he would go along with negotiations if they proved feasible. Papandreou saw the President Wednesday and again Thursday and turned down his appeal.

Now Ball plans to talk with Papandreou and Inonu in New York as well as report to U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant and to the U.N. Cyprus mediator, Ambassador Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland. He is prepared to promise strong U.S. support for a more intensive campaign by Tuomioja to get the Athens and Ankara governments moving toward some direct attack on their dangerous differences.

After rebuffing Johnson's appeal, Papandreou told reporters at Blair House, the President's guest house: "I do not think the views held on each side are mature enough for such a meeting. This is my attitude on all levels (of negotiation)."

Hays announced today that Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman has offered emergency conservation assistance to help re-establish vegetative cover damaged by drought over a prolonged period in 235 counties of the seven states of Alabama, Kentucky, North Carolina, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia.

2 Treated After Two-Car Crash

Two city youths were injured in a two-car mishap today at 12:12 a.m. at the intersection of E. State St. and Union. Treated at Salem City Hospital were David Schuster, 20, of 481 Arch St., who suffered a neck strain, and Stanley Deal, 21, of 686 Franklin Ave., who sustained lower back injury.

The boys were riding in a car operated by Kenneth Moore Jr., 20, of Worthington whose sedan was hit from behind by a convertible operated by David A. Laurain, 28, of 459 Woodland Ave.

Laurain, scheduled for a hearing in mayor's court today, told police he was reaching for a pack of cigarettes that had fallen to the car floor and did not notice the westbound Moore auto stopped in front of him to make a left turn from State St. onto S. Union. Laurain was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Riots

the whites were clubbed by police and arrested.

Whites Launch Attacks

The parade disintegrated and never reformed. Remnants of the march continued around the square with whites attacking again and again. Finally, the march turned into a rout. The Negroes ran toward their section of town, pursued by screaming whites who would hit once or twice, and race on.

The marchers straggled back to their starting point with some near hysteria.

King said that some were ready to get guns and return to the scene of the downtown riot. Segregationist leaders told newsmen afterward that counter demonstrations would continue as long as the Negro demonstrated.

Head-On Car Crash Kills 7 Persons

BOSWELL, Okla. (AP) — A head-on collision between two cars early today killed seven persons and critically injured an eighth.

Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred two miles west of Boswell on U.S. 70, in the Lake Texoma area.

Dead on arrival at a Durant, Okla., hospital were, C. R. Brackett Jr., driver of one car, and his passengers, Glenn Russell and F. M. Mack McNamany; and Mabel B. Newton, 30, driver of the second car; her husband Raymond A. Newton, 31, and their two daughters, aged 11 and 5.

In critical condition was a woman passenger with the Newtons, Vassie T. Johnson, 20.

Officers said Mrs. Newton apparently dozed at the wheel and swing across the highway dividing line into the path of the Brackett car.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our 12-year-old daughter, Diane, is an only child. Because of my husband's work we must go out socially at least three evenings a week. Our neighbors have a 17-year-old son who is eager to earn some spending money.

For the last several months we have had this boy sit with Diane. It seemed like a perfectly splendid idea—until recently. When my husband and I came home Saturday night at about midnight, Diane was not in her bed. She was in the bathroom with the door locked.

We pounded on the door until she let us in. The poor girl had fallen asleep. She had taken her pillow and blanket and made a bed for herself in the bathtub.

We finally got an explanation out of her. Diane's bedroom door has no lock and she is afraid of the boy. She gave us her word that he never had done or said anything wrong—but she was "afraid he might."

We don't want to be unfair to the boy, Ann. What should we do? We believe Diane was telling us the whole truth. Thank you.—CONCERNED PARENTS

Dear Parents: The boy may be perfectly fine in every respect but it is apparent that Diane is not comfortable with him.

Get a girl sitter—a big sister substitute. The boy, of course, need not be told the reason for the change.

Family Partnership

Dear Ann: Ten years ago my husband took his older brother, Manny, into his business because his mother begged him to. Manny ruined their father's business which was left to him and he then went through most of the money left to his mother. I don't know how else to describe him except to say he is one of these people who knows everything and never has been wrong in his life.

My husband sold Manny 25 per cent of the business for $10,000 which he "borrowed" from his mother. To listen to him, you'd think my husband was working for him.

Last month Manny took his nitwit son (age 22) into the business and is calling him sales manager. He did this without consulting anybody.

My husband is getting ulcers from all this. He feels guilty because brothers are supposed to love each other. Legally he can throw them both out but he is afraid it might harm the family relationships.—SPLITTING HEAD.

Dear Head: The family relationships sound pretty shaky right now. What's to harm?

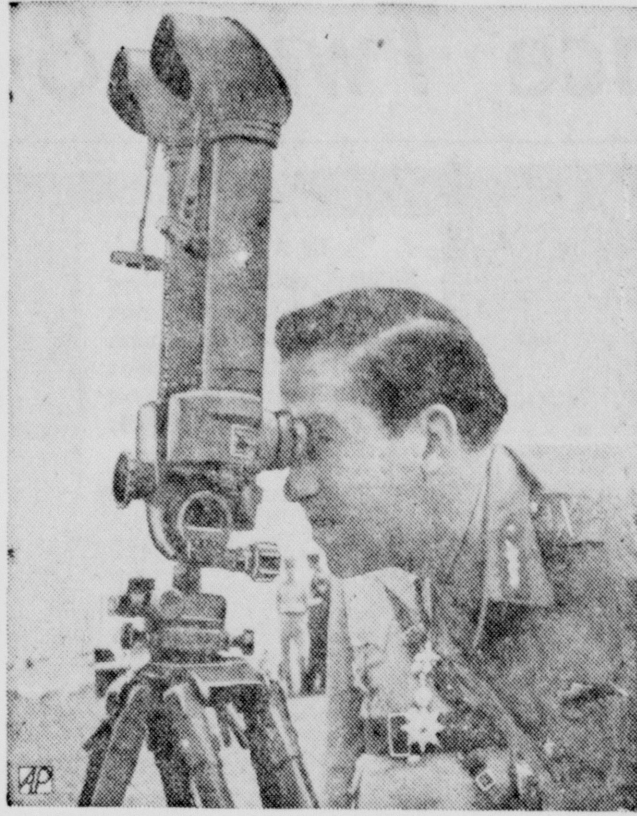

I hope your husband will buy Manny's 25 per cent back even if he has to pay a lot more than he thinks he should.

Don't feel guilty. Relatives who feed from a common trough frequently have hostile feelings toward one another, although they present a beautiful picture of solidarity to outsiders. (If the boys get along well, their wives don't—etc.) Of course, there are exceptions, but they are as rare as sand flies in Siberia.

Big Spenders

Dear Ann: My girl friend and I are both 16. We have been dating two boys from another high school. They are buddies.

The second time we went out with Phil and Bill (made up names) they discovered they had no money AFTER we had pulled into a gas station and ordered five gallons of gas. My girl friend and I gave them $1.50. We were supposed to get it back but nothing was ever said about it so we let it go.

REGAL CHECK — King Constantine, the new young Greek monarch, uses a periscope to watch artillery bursts during a visit to the military bases of northern Greece.

The next week when we were in a pizza place the boys suddenly discovered they have 14c between them, so my girl friend and I paid for the treats.

Last night on the way to the bowling alley Bill and Phil asked if they could borrow $2 each until next week. We said okay and handed over the money. Since they had never paid back any of the other money we loaned them we really don't expect to see this money again either.

Please tell me if you think we are being too dollar-minded or are these boys taking advantage of us? — TWO HUMAN CASH REGISTERS.

Dear Registers: It is no disgrace to be tapped out but it is darned disgraceful to continue to borrow money and make no effort to repay it.

Phil is a pill and so is Bill. The shortage of loot is the least of their deficiencies. They are also short of integrity. Tell them to get lost.

Weeping Widow

Dear Ann: I've enjoyed your column for many years and now I want to tell you my story as partial repayment for the enjoyment you have given me.

Often widows and unmarried career girls write and ask where all the eligible men are hiding. Well, I'm one widow who wishes the eligible man she found had stayed in hiding.

Two years ago I was 52, lonely (my husband had died three years before) and I felt remarriage was the answer. I had a lovely home, a new car, some blue chip stocks and a nice little piece of real estate.

The town "catch" phoned me twice a day, took me to dinner four times a week and told me I was the angel of his dreams.

Now, less than 25 months later he has "borrowed" $7,000 from me and is about to lose a business which I financed. The cook I had for 21 years quit because she couldn't stand him. I'm fed up on his corny jokes and his boring relatives.

How I wish I were alone again, watching seven-year-old movies on TV. — NO FOOL LIKE AN OLD FOOL.

Dear No: Many lonely widows who marry a second time find happiness and contentment.

You made a poor selection, Madame, but that has been known to happen the first time around, too.

Indians Trounce Twins 8-1 Behind Kralick's Hurling

Alvis, Brown Clout Homers

Tribe Starts Series With Sox Tonight

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The 91-degree heat was Jack Kralick's toughest foe as he threw a three-hitter for seven innings and went three-for-three at the plate in the Cleveland Indians' 8-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

Max Alvis and Larry Brown slammed two-run homers for the Tribe Thursday and Dick Howser collected three hits.

Kralick, who was 7-6 at this time last season, upped his record to 8-2. Based on pitchers involved in at least seven decisions, his .800 percentage is second only to Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees, who has .909 with a 10-1 mark.

Don McMahon pitched the last two innings for Cleveland and didn't give up a hit after the heat forced Kralick out.

Starter Jim (Mudcat) Grant, traded by the Indians to the Twins, gave up four runs to take his fifth loss against three victories.

Alvis cracked his 12th homer of the season, and third in the four-game series, in the fourth. It came after Fred Whitfield had reached first on an error by Bob Allison. There was a collision between those two and Grant after Allison fielded Whitfield's grounder and raced Whitfield to the bag. Grant was covering and all three arrived at the same time. None was injured seriously.

The Twins got their run in their half of the fourth on Allison's double and Jimmie Hall's single.

Kralick didn't give up a hit the rest of the way, and neither did McMahon.

The Tribe went ahead 4-1 in the fifth on Kralick's double and singles by Dick Howser and Bob Chance. Howser drove in two more runs in the sixth with a bases-loaded double. Jim Perry had filled the bases, giving up singles to Alvis, Brown and Kralick.

Cleveland opens a four-game series in Boston tonight. Tommy John (2-6) of the Indians will pitch against Dave Morehead (5-7).

Orioles Lead AL By 2½ Games

Baltimore Sweeps Yankee Series; Angels Edge Athletics For 9th

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dust off the first chair, boys—Baltimore's fanciest Barber is back in business!

Steve Barber, who bossed the Orioles' pitching corps a year ago with a 20-13 mark, can count his 1964 victories on one hand. But the three-hit, nine-strikeout trim job he did on New York Thursday night in a 3-1 verdict over the Yankees had all the earmarks of a return to 1963 form.

The southpaw's effort, coupled with home runs by Boog Powell and Brooks Robinson, gave the Orioles a sweep of the three-game series and stretched their American League lead over the Yankees to 2½ games.

A month ago, Barber was still looking for his first victory. He had started five games, finished none and was laboring with a sore arm and a 6.63 earned run average.

Now he's 4-4 with two complete games in his last 3 starts and a 3.79 ERA. His left arm is healthy again, which is more than can be said for the Yankees' image.

They came into Baltimore on a five-game win streak and left with their heads shaved. Manager Yogi Berra, however, was unruffled.

"We're one game behind (in the loss column) with 98 to play," he purred.

While the Orioles were mistreating New York for the third straight time, the red-hot Los Angeles Angels captured their ninth in a row, nipping Kansas City 4-3, and climbed into a sixth-place tie with idle Boston. Cleveland overpowered Minnesota 8-1 in the only other AL game scheduled.

Barber's scissors slipped once against the Yanks. Joe Pepitone led off the third inning with his ninth homer. But Powell's 16th circuit—his third in the series—and Robinson's eighth, both off loser Jim Bouton, gave Barber all the runs he needed before 36,369 fans, largest Baltimore crowd of the season.

Bob Rodgers' sixth-inning single scored Bob Perry, snapping a 3-3 deadlock at Los Angeles and extending the longest winning streak in Angel history. Fred Newman recorded his fourth straight victory with the aid of Dan Osinski's scoreless three-inning relief stint.

Veterans Jim Piersall and Vic Power each delivered runs in the Angels' three-run third inning. Bill Bryan hit a solo homer for the A's, who scored twice in the top of the sixth, to tie it.

Max Alvis crashed his third homer in two games and Jack Kralick won his eighth game in 10 decisions as the Indians cuffed former teammate Mudcat Grant. Kralick collected three hits and combined with reliever Don McMahon for a three-hitter.

Larry Brown also homered for Cleveland and Dick Howser went 3-for-5. The Twins' Bob Allison stretched his hitting string to 15 games with a fourth-inning double.

Metreveli Is Scratched In Singles Event

Russian Star Refuses To Play South African At Wimbledon

By BOB WATTS
Associated Press Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Officials at aristocratic Wimbledon, which prides itself on being the world's best-run tournament, were wondering today just what to do if any more Communist players refuse to play with South Africans because of apartheid.

Politics hit Wimbledon tennis for the first time in its 78 years Thursday when Russia's No. 2 player, Alex Mereveli, scratched from the men's singles after refusing to meet South African Abe Segal in a third-round match because of South Africa's racial policies.

This shock withdrawal was closely followed by Hungarian Istvan Gulyas pulling out of the men's doubles in which he was to have partnered Segal.

Now Wimbledon officials are wondering if another player, Mrs. Suzi Kormoczy of Hungary, will withdraw from the doubles first-round match in which she is scheduled to play with Christiane Mercelis of Belgium against Segal's wife, Heather, and Carol Prosen of Orlando, Fla.

One Wimbledon official said:

"To keep political propaganda out of Wimbledon in the future we should insist that a player can only withdraw if he produces a valid medical certificate."

Russian coach Semyn Belitz-German said: "The decision was entirely up to Metreveli's own conscience. There was no pressure from me or from the tennis association in Moscow."

Politics apart, Thursday saw the exit of the first seed in the women's bracket — seventh-ranked Jan Lehane of Australia. Norma Baylon, the young Argentine star, beat her 6-3, 2-6, 7-5.

Otherwise, all of the seeds, both men and women, who took the courts Thursday came through — though several had some uneasy moments.

These included the holders of the men's and women's titles—Chuck McKinley, of San Antonio, Tex., who was taken to four sets by Denmark's bearded Torben Ulrich, 7-5, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5, and Marge Smith of Australia, who struggled through a marathon first set before beating Mrs. Karen Susman, of San Antonio, Tex., 1962 winner but unseeded this year, 11-9, 6-0.

Lebovitz Helps Check Out Interference Call

Umpire Cal Hubbard Clears Up Disputed Play In Junior Loop

A dispute over an unusual play on opening day, June 2, in Salem Junior Baseball Class F competition has been cleared up by Cal Hubbard, who is dean of Major League umpires.

The protest was lodged in the sixth inning of the game at Memorial Park by Elks' manager Bill Galchick. His team lost to Sekely's 12-11.

THE SITUATION was this: Two men out, runner on third and a right-handed batter up. The pitcher throws the ball low and outside. It gets away from the catcher and goes to the backstop. The runner breaks for home and the pitcher rushes in to take the throw. Runner slides across home plate. The catcher throws the ball to the pitcher but it hits the back of the batter who remains in his box the entire time.

Plate umpire Dave Thomas, and later Class F Commissioner Ralph Mancuso called the runner out because of interference by the batter. Both said the batter must vacate his box on the play.

GALCHICK PROTESTED saying the batter doesn't have to get out of the box until he is retired and that the batter isn't the judge of a passed ball.

The Elks' field boss then sent Hal Lebovitz, who writes a daily column "Ask Hal the Referee" for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, a letter asking him for the correct ruling.

Lebovitz contacted American League senior umpire Joe Paparella for his rules interpretation of the play.

Paparella ruled in Galchick's favor and Lebovitz notified the Elks' manager by telephone.

Mancuso, not satisfied phoned the sports writer and asked him to clarify the rule for him.

No completely sure of himself, Lebovitz went to special trouble and got ahold of Hubbard who was in Boston, Mass. at the time.

HUBBARD, a member of the rules committee and head of all overruled Paparella. He pointed out rule 7-11 which reads, "The players of an offensive team shall vacate any space needed by a fielder who is attempting to field a batted or thrown ball."

A batter is entitled to the box during a pitch. But the pitch made. That's a new play and the batter must vacate the premises. If not interference is called and the runner trying to advance is out.

Old Dutch Romps; Gold Bar Triumphs

Eight hits in the third inning by Old Dutch were big blows as the City Softball (fast-pitch) League leader handed Fernengel's at 11-0 setback at Kelley Field Thursday night.

Gold Bar, staying right on the heels of Old Dutch, knocked off Charlie's Boats 7-5, and Salem Merchants evened its season record as it trimmed Moose 8-5.

Tripled by Bob Stallsmith, Roger Stille and John Storer and a double by Dick Youngpeter were the key hits in the third as Old Dutch (8-1) sent 15 batters to the plate.

Stoffer, the winning hurler, gave up only two hits. Ron Schaeffer hit a single in the second and Ed Stefane singled in the fourth for Fernengel's (6-5). A two-run home run by John Eckstein put Gold Bar (9-2) ahead to stay in the bottom of the first. The winners were able to get only one other hit the rest of the way, but it resulted in their third run.

Dick Dougherty led off the first inning for Charlie's (7-5) with a single. He advanced to second on a sacrifice and scored on a single by Jack Jackson.

Merchants got all its runs in the third on a walk, six singles and a double by Casey Lease. Joe Carmelo led the winners (6-6) with three hits, and Jerry Beiling collected two singles.

Mike Paster, John Chaffin and Don Casey were the only batters for the losers (3-8) to get hits.

Pirates Whip Mets 8-1; Cards Trim Colts

Koufax Sets Strike-Out Mark; Giants Nip LA In 13 Innings

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Sandy Koufax set his record but the 35,930 Candlestick Park fans who saw him do it probably will remember Del Crandall's performance a lot longer.

Koufax has struck out 10 or more batters in a game 54 times before, but how many times has Crandall had four hits in a game?

It was the veteran catcher's fourth safety of the night that broke up a 13-inning oldtime Giant - Dodger donnybrook Thursday night and gave San Francisco a 2-1 squeaker over Los Angeles.

Crandall, acquired from Milwaukee last winter, delivered the key blow in the final inning after hits by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda and an intentional walk to Jim Ray Hart had loaded the bases.

Crandall, batting .188 going into the game, cracked his game-ending hit off Nate Oliver's glove as Cepeda scampered across with the winning run.

Four innings earlier, Koufax had broken the mark he shared with Rube Waddell and Bob Feller, by reaching the 10-or-more strikeout plateau for the 55th time in his career.

The Dodgers got their first run on Ron Fairly's third homer of the year in the seventh. San Francisco tied it on Mays' walk and steal of second and Tom Haller's pinch single in the eighth.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh whipped New York for the 11th time in 13 meetings, 8-1, and St. Louis rallied for three runs in the eighth inning to whip Houston 4-2.

Jerry Lynch hammered two homers and Bill Mazeroski had one as the Pirates piled up an early lead against the Mets. The 13-hit attack made it easy for Joe Gibbon, who fired a four-hitter.

Ron Hunt had two hits for the Mets and scored their only run. It was New York's fifth straight loss and 13th in the last 14 games.

Ken Boyer and Dick Groat cracked eighth inning doubles to drive in the three Cardinal runs as St. Louis rallied to beat Bob Bruce. Boyer's two-run shot came after Curt Flood walked and Bill White singled. Groat's hit added the insurance run.

Bob Aspromonte drove in both Houston runs with a pop fly double in the second inning and a homer in the sixth.

Beaver Valley Polo Team Plays Saturday

Beaver Valley Polo Club will battle Cleveland in its first Mid-States League match at its home field in Darlington, Pa., Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

The two units finished as co-champions in the loop last season. Beaver Valley holds an earlier victory over the Cleveland riders this season.

ENOUGH FISH FOR SKILLET AND FREEZER — Two Salem youngsters show a nine-foot string full of crappies taken in 2½ hours of fishing at Guilford Lake. Blair Whitman, 15, of 695 Washington (left) and Ellsworth Bowser, 15, of 1169 Maple St. used seven dozen minnows to catch the 144 fish.

With Rod And Reel

By TOM JAGER

Now that the warmer weather is upon us, more people can be seen at the district lakes enjoying a day of fishing. The fish are biting, too.

Guilford Lake has been the scene of some good fishing in the past week. Not only were large numbers of crappies taken, but bass, walleyes and channel catfish have been hitting. Blue gill started to hit at the western end of the lake.

THERE WERE 29 FAMILIES from the "Salem Scampers" at Westville Lakes over the weekend. They were under the direction of wagonmaster Gene Tullis of 2140 E. State. The 140 people in the group enjoyed some fishing on their weekend outing. One member caught a five-pound bass, using a night crawler.

Over-all fishing at Clendening Lake has picked up quite a bit according to reports from there. Bass fishing is better than ever as the larger members of that fish family have finished with their spawning activities. Catfish are doing well and Dick West of Uhrichville landed a 48 pounder using hickory shad for bait. Blue gill and crappies are also doing real well. To catch them, maggots seem the best bait to use.

Some mighty fine catches have been made at Westville Lakes using live bait and artificial lures like the hula hopper, the spatter floss, rapala and river run.

Joe Snyder of Sebring comes in again with five bass. Joe used a small cobra lure. The bass measured from 15 to 20 inches with one in the four pound class. Harry Paxson of Salem caught perch, using a black fly tipped with maggots.

Bob Dundon of Beloit RD 2 caught three nice sized walleyes in the third lake. The water depth there is anywhere from 31 to 70 ft. Bill Stackburger and John Butch of Westville caught two 25-pound snapping turtles. They used blue gill as bait. Vince Butch, using live bait, bagged eight good sized perch.

OVER AT GUILFORD LAKE Robin Corey of 274 N. Ellsworth and Burke Crawford of Dalton caught 300 crappies and four catfish in three days fishing. Corey told me they used a small white popper an hour before dark to land a large number of crappies. Others were caught on minnows and the catfish were caught on night crawlers.

BLAIR WHITMAN 15, of 695 Washington Ave. and Ellsworth Bowser, 15, of 1169 Maple St. caught a nice stringer full of crappies ranging in size from 7 to 11½ inches. Altogether, they caught 144 crappies in 2½ hours, using seven dozen minnows.

North Cagers Battle South Saturday

By HAI PARIS
Associated Press Writer
MARION, Ohio (AP) — Some of the classic scholastic basketball stars in Ohio go on display here Saturday night when the North tangles with the South in the annual all-star high school game.

The cage classic, renewed after a two-year lapse, finds the South leading the series 3-2 and favored to cop the 1964 contest. Both squads are loaded with hotshot performers but the Rebels boast player-of-the-year Bill Hosket, a 6-foot-6 standout who led Dayton Belmont to the Class AA title last March.

Hosket, one of the most sought after high school players until his decision to attend Ohio State, is a strong rebounder and fine outside shooter.

The 200-pound Dayton star connected on 50 per cent of his field goal tries last season leading Belmont to a gaudy 26-1 record.

The South squad also has Hosket's running mate at Belmont, 6-4 Don May, an All-Ohio first team selection. May almost matched Hosket in shooting with a fine 48 per cent and is real tough under the boards.

A capacity crowd is expected to fill Memorial Coliseum to view the action with tipoff time at 8 p.m. (EST).

The game will be played under the quarter system, with each period 10 minutes duration. A new rule this year permits the coaches to use either a man-to-man defense of a zone alignment. The zone defense previously was prohibited in all-star clashes.

All-Star managers Lee Himmenger of Ayresville and Dan Baker of Marion report that ticket sales already have reached 3,500, an all time high. Capacity in the coliseum is 4,500.

Coaches Bob Arnen of Delphos St. Johns and Bob Guinz of Celina Immaculate Conception head the North array while John Ross of Dayton Belmont and Park Prater of Southeastern (Ross County) guide the South team.

The two 10-man squads eased off yesterday after two-a-day practice sessions. Both teams are reported fit.

The North will bank heavily on twin guards Harry and Jim Carder of Delphos St. Johns, a pair of defensive gems, and big Dick Cunningham, the 6-9 Canton South star and the Yankees tallest player.

Rounding out the squads are: South—Fred Cluff, Hillsboro; Mike Curry, Chesapeake; Richard Goddard, Graham Local; Bob Goodrich, Wyoming; John Howard, Columbus University; Fred Lentz, Newark; Jack Lewis, Marion, and Mike Swain, Maysville.

les by Owens, Milligan and Rick Hippley gave Bliss (4-1) a 2-0 lead in the third inning. The winners iced the contest in the fourth by scoring two more runs on a walk, two errors, fielder's choice and singles by Lantz, Owens and Gary Dickerhoff.

Jack Falzetta put Leetonia in the scoring column in the fifth as he blasted a home run. The losers (2-4) got their final run in the seventh on a couple of errors, fielder's choice and a single by Jack Snyder.

Three batters did all the damage as Hunt's rolled to its seventh win in nine starts. Craig Anderson socked a triple and two doubles; Gary Ormes, a triple and double; and Jeff Zimmerman two doubles.

Dan Merrill led Italian Club (4-5) with a double and single. Dan Hippley had a perfect day at the plate for Petrucci's (4-5) as he doubled and singled three times. He also scored three runs.

Rich Crammer and Dennis Baker each had a double to pace Lions Club (2-7).

Columbiana Legion Trims Lisbon 4-2

Columbiana's American Legion baseball team pulled ahead again in the county Legion standings as it defeated Lisbon 4-2 at the losers' field Thursday.

The winners chalked up their fourth win in five starts. Salem is in second place with a 3-1 record.

A double by Rich Glaser, a couple of errors and a triple by Jim Houpp gave the winners three runs in the second inning.

Houpp and Glaser each had two hits for Columbiana, Jim Dickens chalked up his third straight win as the winning pitcher.

Hiscox, Lowry and Kuhns paced Lisbon (1-4) with two hits apiece. Kemats was the losing hurler.

Columbiana will entertain Hanoverton at Firestone Park in Columbiana Sunday at 2 p.m.

A word from Theron at the Country Store

When I got back to the Country Store I found all departments to be in better condition than when I left. Its nice to get away for a while but its even nicer to get back.

I think we have just about the nicest group of customers that anyone could hope to have. Many of the people who started dealing with us in our first small store are still with us and they have sent us so many of their neighbors and friends through the years.

College Students Wind Up Training

Rights Workers To Leave for Mississippi

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Some 400 young civil rights workers, who have channeled their fears into subdued anger and iron determination, wind up a week's training today and will leave this weekend for racially tense Mississippi.

The young people — Mostly white volunteers from northern and western colleges—say they are going prepared for the worst since the baffling disappearance of three colleagues in Mississippi.

They were urged Thursday to "rededicate yourselves to work harder" and were told that "no form of struggle can be determined by casualties."

Bayard Rustin, nationally known civil rights leader, also told the students that "we should dedicate ourselves in their names," in referring to the missing civil rights workers, one of whom attended the first integration training school here last week.

"You do not stop," said Rustin, organizer of the march on Washington last summer. "There will be casualties when our only weapons are your bodies."

"Our attention should be to remove the conditions in Mississippi that led to this brutality so that no future generation of people in Mississippi could grow up and do this same kind of thing," Rustin said.

Rustin repeatedly urged the college students to be nonviolent. "The civil rights movement has attributed more to American society and democracy for all people, rather than just Negroes, because of the nonviolent philosophy."

"The southern Negro needs your help because he doesn't have the economic and social power to make the breakthrough alone," Rustin said.

The students will be leaving for Mississippi today and tomorrow in private cars or buses. The students, paying their own expenses, are to work all summer on Negro voter registration drives and help organize freedom schools and community centers.

Ruritan Officials Plan Nov. 7 Rally

The fall convention of the Ohio District Ruritan Clubs will be held Nov. 7 at Maple Ridge, according to report made Wednesday night at the lieutenant governors' meeting at Alliance.

Russ Burgess, Ruritan National president will be the guest speaker at the convention.

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, former national president of Ruritan, gave his report on club donations for the new national headquarters building at Dublin, Va., showing 80 per cent of all clubs contacted has donated for a total $1,033.

All lieutenant governors gave their first six-month reports and Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, Lt. governor of Zone 8, presented the zone report.

One new club was added to the Ohio district. It is at Cadiz and its charter will be presented next month by Ralph J. Schneider of North Georgetown, Ohio Ohio governor, and Richard Speidel of Hanoverton, director of Ruritan National.

Next meeting for lieutenant governors will be Sept. 9 in Alliance.

YOUTH DIES IN CRASH

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A car carrying five Springfield teen-agers went out of control on a curve in a road a mile west of here and crashed Thursday. Walter Winslow, 17, a passenger, was killed. The other four were injured, one critically.

Human Phobias

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you tired of having the same old fears?

Wouldn't you like some fresh anxieties to fret over to make your life more interesting?

Well, be of good cheer. The possibilities are endless.

Medical dictionaries now list some 300 or more specific fears, and the list is growing. They all have wonderfully impressive-sounding names, and the chances are you have had some of these dreads all along and never knew it.

If you hate losing a golf match, your friends may merely put you down as a poor sport. But if you tell them you're suffering from rhabdophobia—which is the fear of being beaten—they're bound to feel more sympathetic.

Perhaps it embarrasses you if the boss catches you dozing in your swivel chair at the office. Put your ailment down as hypnophobia, the fear of falling asleep.

If you hate being alone, you have got monophobia; if you can't stand crowds, you're a victim of ochlophobia — and probably also apophobia, the fear of physical contact.

Old maids who can't stand men, dogs or marriage are triply afflicted with androphobia, cynophobia and gamophobia.

Women who are always cajoling their husbands into taking them out for the evening suffer from a complaint common among housewives — domatophobia, the fear of being shut up in a house.

That nursery rhyme character, Little Miss Muffet, who was frightened off her tuffet by a spider, acted from a deep-seated feeling of arachneophobia.

If you're looking for some really unusual fears, here are a few:

Dipsophobia—fear of liquor. Chrematophobia — fear of money.

Chionophobia—fear of snow. Autophobia — fear of hearing flutes. Taphophobia — fear that you are harboring a tapeworm. Limnophobia—fear of string. Pirromophobia — fear of thinking. Autophobia—fear of yourself. Of course, if you can't make up your mind what to be afraid of—and the choices are practically endless—there is a package deal available.

You might decide to settle for pantophobia. That means the fear of everything.
